*SOURCE

1. Between 1 and 5 August 1950 approximately 300 families from the district of Nevrokop were forcibly deported from their homes by the Bulgarian authorities. About 60 of these families were from the town of Nevrokop.
2. The deportees in question were taken to the towns of Troyan and Nikopol in Northern Bulgaria.
3. The reason given for the deportations was that the people concerned were unreliable and that they were guilty of assisting Greek and American agents.

This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1978 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Archivist of the United States.
